APPRENTICESHIP TRAINING PROGRAM

Brisbane School of Hairdressing (BSH), Gold Coast School of Hairdressing and Brisbane School of Barbering has been educating hairdressers since 1969 and in 1997 BSH became the first private hairdressing college in Queensland to train apprentices.

There are Many Benefits to Selecting BSH as your Registered Training Organisation (RTO).

- You will gain extensive knowledge from our Educators and first-class training facilities.
- Our Educators are passionate, industry current, with an enormous amount of experience to share.
- This, together with the use of the latest resources, will assist you to become the best stylist you can be.

BSH is a Pre-qualified Supplier of the Department of Education and Training delivering quality training under the User Choice Program. This funding provided by DET will assist you to gain your hairdressing or barber qualification.

Only Australian and New Zealand citizens who have entered Australia on a valid passport have unrestricted rights to apprenticeships in Australia. Apprentices are required to pay a student contribution fee towards their training & resources. Concession fees apply for eligible apprentices.

✓ On campus trained apprentices typically attend one day per week or one day per fortnight for part time apprentices

✓ In-salon training is a choice that is popular to employers who offer extensive training/guidance in their salon. Our educators visit salons every four to five weeks. This mode relies on the apprentice being motivated to complete theory while having regular training from qualified senior stylists within their salon. Bi-annual block visits to school are required for practical training

✓ Block release of four to five weeks annually is available but is mainly utilised for regional apprentices & locals requiring extra training for various reasons

✓ School based apprenticeships are offered a flexible attendance pattern
